

Supreme Court of the Student Body

No. 23-002

T.J. EDWARDS

Plaintiff

v.

BOARD OF ELECTIONS

Defendant

ORDER

The plaintiff's motion for a temporary restraining order (TRO) is DENIED per curiam. The plaintiff has not demonstrated they are "clearly entitled to the relief requested," as is required under R. 40(b)(2). Barring the Board of Elections from administering the 2024 Spring General Election in accordance with the statutory timeline, while not without precedent, would be enormously disruptive to little end. We also decline to delay the administration of the Graduate and Professional Student Government President election in particular. The plaintiff did not specifically request this relief in their original motion, and it is also not clearly necessary to preserve their rights or which remedies remain available.
